Youth Activism and Anti-Racism conference

November 23-24, 2007

October 17, 2007

Dear Community Member,

On behalf of the Youth Action Network (YAN), I would like to invite you and your students to attend the Fifth Annual "Ruckus!" Youth Activism and Anti-Racism Conference to be held Friday, November 23 and Saturday, November 24 at the University of Toronto.

Ruckus! is a FREE conference held over two days for high school age youth of Colour, Aboriginal youth, Immigrant youth and all other youth concerned about racism. The conference provides safe space for youth from across the GTA to discuss racism and provides an introduction to existing community work and social justice movements.

Each workshop takes a different approach to combating and eliminating racism: from discussions on current social justice campaigns and grassroots social movements, to explorations of creative resistance and arts-based activism, to identifying systemic barriers to equality in Canada, to cutting through cultural stereotypes to improving interpersonal communication skills and de-escalating conflict.

If you would like to bring a group of students to attend Ruckus! 2007 please visit www.youthactionnetwork.org or keep reading for Conference details.

I can be reached at 416-368-2277 or ruckus07@gmail.com.

5. BACKGROUND

About Ruckus

Ruckus! is a FREE two-day youth-led conference that started in 2002 as a response to the lack of inclusion of youth of colour into current social justice and environmental movements. Our goal is to introduce participants to existing activism and community work, to provide safe spaces for youth of colour to develop a critical analysis around race and racism in Canada and provide practical skills and tools for youth to take action in their communities. Ruckus! is an initiative of the Youth Action Network with support from the City of Toronto Access, Equity and Human Rights Community Investment Program.

About the Youth Action Network (YAN)

Youth Action Network (YAN) was established in 1989 as a national charitable organization run entirely by youth for youth. Our mandate is to motivate and empower young people to take action on social justice and environmental issues. As a fully independent youth-run organization, YAN is committed to ensuring that young people play an integral role in their communities. YAN acts as a catalyst by providing the spark that encourages youth to become more knowledgeable and socially aware. We do this by collaborating with other organizations on youth-driven events and projects and through the operation of our four core projects:

- Ruckus! Anti-Racism Conference (two days of workshops for high school aged youth of Colour and other youth concerned about racism)
- International Youth Week (a week of events celebrating youth activism and achievements)
- Youth Action Forum Magazine (a nationally distributed youth magazine www.youthactionnetwork.org/forum)
- Resource Action Centre (an extensive library of print and online resources).
